

Goodtime Minimalist Pomodoro Timer

- Love the look
- Auto start Toggle
- Different types of vibrate to notify user
- Dark theme toggle

Tomato-Timers

- Very cute Tomato
- The gif has a flashing lightbulb that slightly catches the eye, prefer it wasn't there
- Start and stop are separate
- No statistics at all, keeps website clean

Pomodor

- Very nice aesthetic
- Cute sound when the time finishes
- Autostart each section/cycle
- Labels can be given different colors
- Stats are a bit lacking and hard to figure out whats going on

PomoTodo

- Much more to-do list focus
- Stats are ordered by day and time of day, analytics tell you best time to work
- Having goals on screen is a nice reminder
- Ticking sound, annoying, can be toggled

How I might use it:

- To make sure im making pace on my work
- Long, monotonous tasks where a break might be appreciated, ie reading
- Making sure to actually take a break if I get too engrossed in work

User Profile:

Office Worker

- Works at the office in a sitting position for long periods of the day
- Make sure to have regular breaks to induce blood flow in legs and arms
- Coffee timer
- Cooking timer? (ie Check your roast after every set interval)
